

Packaged Protection for Peace of Mind

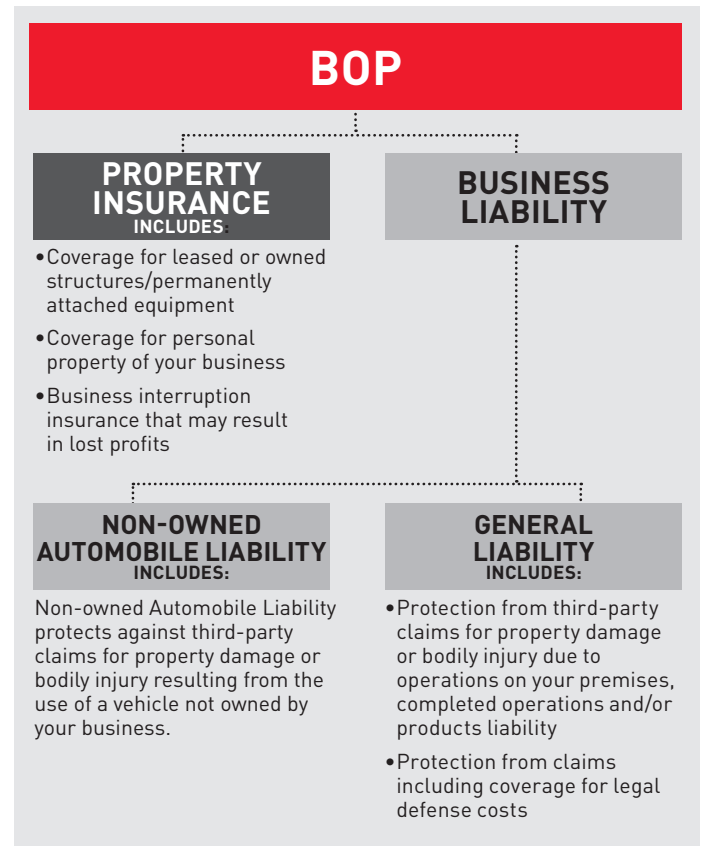

Have you considered a Business Owner’s Policy (BOP)?
 With the possibility of property damage or bodily injury harming all that you’ve worked hard for, having the right business insurance coverage can help bring you peace of mind.

BOP allows you to combine two coverages into one convenient policy, providing businesses like yours with protection for property and financial assets and from third-party claims. BOPs are also generally more cost-effective than purchasing coverage options separately.

Have you considered Automatic Data Processing Insurance Agency, Inc. (ADPIA)?

A BOP can give you reassurance when it is needed most. But how do you know if a Business Owner’s Policy is right for your business? With over 20 years’ experience in business insurance and 700 licensed agents, ADPIA is here to help. In addition to working with us to determine if BOP is right for your business, you could gain access to a variety of other property and casualty products.

Plus, we can integrate your BOP and, workers’ compensation premium payments through our affiliate ADP, LLC, the nation’s leading payroll service provider. Instead of up-front payments,* you can spread your premiums out over your payroll cycle to help free up valuable capital.

Be confident that your business is protected. Connect with ADPIA today.
