

When it comes to property and casualty insurance, selecting the right agent can help you in more ways than one.

And once you know how much ADP and its affiliate, Automatic Data Processing Insurance Agency, Inc. (ADPIA), can do for your business, there's no comparison!

Experience & Stability

Is your current broker well-versed in the business insurance industry? Will they be there for your business in the long run?

With unique needs that will evolve over time, you should be confident that your insurance broker is experienced and stable.

ADPIA is a national insurance agency with over 20 years experience in connecting businesses like yours to the right insurance coverage. With knowledge in the many products, regulations, and trends in property and casualty insurance, ADPIA understands what small to mid-sized companies need to help protect their businesses and employees.

Options & Guidance

There are many property and casualty products for you to choose from and just as many insurance carriers. Does your current broker help you find coverage for your unique business needs?

Without the right options and guidance you risk losing out on solutions that your business may need or choosing ones that it doesn't.

With over 800 licensed insurance agents, ADPIA works closely with a network of insurance carriers to provide businesses with a range of property and casualty options, including workers compensation, business owner's policy, and more. More importantly, ADPIA works closely to help you to determine the coverage options that fit your business needs now and in the future.
